MUDA scam echoes in Delhi

BJP MPs stage protest outside Parliament House; seek Karnataka CM's resignation

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Yaduveer Wadiyar (extreme left), along with other MPs from Karnataka including Basavaraj Bommai, Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri, Dr. C.N. Manjunath, Jaggesh and B.Y. Raghavendra staging a protest condemning MUDA sites scam in New Delhi this morning.

New Delhi, July 26 (Agencies)- Following intense debates and protests in the Karnataka Assembly, the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) site allocation scam, also known as the 50:50 site allocation scam, echoed outside the Parliament in New Delhi this morning. Karnataka MPs staged a protest outside the Parliament House to demand accountability and a thorough investigation into the controversy.

'Those with plots must make way for needy'

Mysuru has ample space, facilities and everyone has the right to live here, says former CITB Chairman D. Madegowda

Mysuru, July 26 (BCT)- Former Chairman of City Improvement Trust Board (CITB, now MUDA) D. Madegowda, popularly known as 'Mane Madegowda' for his role in launching the 'Asha Mandira' scheme, has affirmed that there are enough plots available in Mysuru to provide land to all deserving individuals, provided that those who already own homes do not interfere with process.

D. Madegowda

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Madegowda, who is also a former MLC, addressed the ongoing controversy surrounding the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) and emphasised that plots are available for everyone in Mysuru who lacks a plot or home. He criticised house-owners for interfering in the allocation process.

Madegowda urged people's representatives to advocate strongly for this cause. He suggested they set aside self-interest, caste biases and political ambitions to focus on public service. He also recommended that CM Siddaramaiah, a native of Mysuru, adopt a more flexible approach to achieve this goal.

Public trust erodes as MUDA ignores duties

- Gross mismanagement leaves 86,000 site aspirants in a state of perpetual uncertainty
- 50:50 scheme launched in 2016; picked up pace in 2020 after COVID-19

Mysuru, July 26 (RK&BCT)- The Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), originally established to ensure the planned development of Mysuru and provide housing for the common people, is now under intense scrutiny.

Once a beacon of hope for thousands aspiring to own a house or site in Mysuru, MUDA's apparent abandonment of its primary duties and alleged involvement in large-scale corruption and irregularities have sparked widespread criticism and controversy, eroding public trust.

MUDA's primary role was to issue notifications and allot plots of various sizes according to regulations, prioritising eligible applicants. This included providing essential infrastructure like wide roads, stormwater and underground drainage systems, drinking water, electricity connections, parks, open spaces, civic amenities and Sewage Treatment Plants (STPs).

However, as Mysuru's population and demand for housing surged, the Authority's focus appeared to shift away from its foundational goals.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

REAL PURPOSE OF AVATARA: Lord Narayana came as Rama because He wanted to mingle freely with everyone, said V.S. Karunakarachariar in a discourse. But doesn't Valmiki himself talk of Ravana samhara as the purpose of the avatara? Valmiki's account was just a record of events. Suppose an official in Delhi wants to take a couple of days off to attend a wedding in Kancheepuram. His superiors refuse to give him leave. He then discovers that he has to meet some official in Kancheepuram. He uses this as an excuse to go to Kanchi. After attending the meeting in Kanchi, he also manages to attend the wedding. The official records in Delhi will say that he was in Kanchi on such and such a date, because of an official meeting. His being at the wedding is not going to be in the official records.

Likewise, Rama's slaying of Ravana is the official record. The purpose of the avatara is not stated. Nammazhvar describes Rama as a pond in which asuras fell and died. A pond does not drag people and drown them. Likewise, the Lord did not have to come and fight Ravana. He happened to be here as Rama, and Ravana was killed because he abducted Sita. Had He not come as Rama, would He have been able to embrace Guha as a friend? He accepted the fruits that Sabari gave Him. His simplicity gladdened her heart. Would this have been possible, if He had resorted to remote killing of Ravana from His divine abode? —In The Hindu

Largest cashew tree covers over 8,000 sq. mts.

Rio Grande do Norte: The Pirangi Cashew Tree in Brazil's Rio Grande do Norte is considered the world's largest cashew tree. It has a circumference of around 500 meters and covers an area of 8,400 square metres.

Legend has it that the Pirangi Cashew Tree was planted in 1888 by a local fisherman who later died at the age of 93 under the shade of the humongous tree. However, experts believe that, based on its growth characteristics, "the tree is estimated to be more than a thousand years old." One thing is for sure, though, this is no ordinary cashew tree. It is the size of 70 normally sized cashew trees and actually has to be seen from a special lookout point high above to be truly appreciated. It produces over 60,000 cashew fruits per year and also attracts hundreds of thousands of tourists from all over Brazil.

Drugs seized from same traveller twice in a week

U.S. Customs and Border Protection

Seattle: The U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) officers on Wednesday said it had seized illicit drugs from the same traveller twice in one week at a Seattle airport.

CBP officials seized pounds of ketamine, codeine and gamma hydroxybutyrate, known as "GHB," from a traveller who entered the United States from Europe then tried to return after getting released from jail only to be caught again with drugs at the same airport, according to a news release.

He was arrested and turned over to the Port of Seattle Police Department and now faces possession charges with the intent to distribute ketamine under Washington State law.

At his luggage inspection, CBP officers discovered more than 12 pounds of ketamine in both liquid and powder form, about two pounds of codeine and three ounces of GHB. The federal agency says the man first arrived on July 19 at Seattle Airport in Washington when the first seizure took place

Unreserved passengers on your train seat?

You may call 139 to complain

Sir,

I want to bring to the common man's notice how much our Railways has improved in handling grievances and complaints, based on my recent travel experience. I travelled from Madurai to Mysuru on 21.7.2024 by Tuticorin Express Train, holding a second-class normal sleeper reservation.

When I boarded the train, the compartment was full of unreserved passengers, many of whom were sitting near the doors and toilets, making it difficult for reserved passengers to use the facilities. Additionally, they were listening to music and watching movies at high volumes.

During the TTE (Travelling Ticket Examiner) inspection, I raised this issue but found the TTE was helpless as he was alone, and the number of unreserved passengers was equal to or greater than that of the reserved passengers in the coach.

He tried his best to deboard them but was unsuccessful, as the passengers were playing a cat-and-mouse game by switching compartments. The TTE suggested I raise an online grievance, which I did immediately by calling 139 and explaining the situation.

To my surprise, I promptly received an acknowledgement message and a reference number for my complaint. Soon after, I received a call from an RPF (Railway Protection Force) Officer, who introduced himself politely and assured me that the unreserved passengers would be deboarded at the next station.

As promised, the unreserved passengers were deboarded in batches at the next station. I also received calls at subsequent stations from other RPF Officers, who inquired whether my journey was now comfortable and if any further assistance was required.

To ensure my satisfaction, RPF Officers visited my coach, checked the situation personally, and had me acknowledge online that the grievance had been resolved.

What an amazing service from the RPF team! We don't often see such speedy grievance redressal even from big corporations or institutions. Kudos to our Railway Protection Force and the Railway Department.

I encourage passengers facing issues during their journey to use this facility to make their travel more comfortable. Whether the train or toilet is dirty, there's no water, rude co-passengers, or any other issue, just call 139 and specify your complaint. The RPF team will be at your service.

Mission statement of RPF

We shall: • Protect and safeguard Railway passengers, passenger areas and Railway property. • Ensure the safety and security of the travelling public and boost their confidence in the Indian Railways.

RPF has truly lived up to its mission statement. Once again, kudos to the Railway Protection Force. I wholeheartedly appreciate their hospitality.

HC reduces rape sentence after convict's settlement with victim

Bengaluru, July 26 (BCT)- The Karnataka High Court (HC) reduced a Trial Court's five-year sentence to four-and-a-half months in a case where a man promised marriage and subsequently deceived a woman after he learnt that she was pregnant.

The High Court took into account the Rs. 6 lakh compensation already paid to the victim and her son, along with the provision of half-an-acre of land.

Sannegowda (40), a resident of H.D. Kote taluk in Mysuru district, was originally sentenced by the Second Additional District and Sessions Court to five years imprisonment for rape, one year for deception and two years for threats to life. Additionally, a fine of Rs. 15,000 was imposed for the three offences, with Rs. 5,000 allocated to each. This sentencing occurred on Oct. 31, 2011.

Appeal to High Court

Challenging this order, Sannegowda appealed to the High Court and settled with the victim. He paid Rs. 4 lakh as compensation, deposited Rs. 2,47,500 in a bank account for the victim's son's future and provided half-an-acre of land.

Given these compensations, he requested a reduction of his sentence to four-and-a-half months, which was granted by the High Court. He appealed to the Court that he had already served a jail term of four-and-a- half months.

The High Court Bench led by Justice Shivashankar Amarannavar reviewed the criminal appeal, considering the victim's testimony, the birth of her son on Nov. 11, 2009, and the testimony of the doctors who treated her.

On Mar. 14, 2012, the High Court which had suspended his sentencing, ordered Sannegowda's release on bail. Having served four-and-a-half months of imprisonment after the Trial Court's sentence, the High Court deemed it appropriate to adjust the sentence based on the settlement between the victim and the offender.

Additionally, the Court directed the Trial Court that out of the Rs. 15,000 fine imposed on Sannegowda, Rs. 10,000 should be given to the victim as compensation.

Victim was lured in 2009

In 2009, Sannegowda encountered the 19-year-old worker doing manual work on his land. He promised to marry her and began a sexual relationship. After this, the victim disappeared for a period.

When she returned on Mar. 6, 2009, Sannegowda again promised marriage, swore an oath, and forcibly engaged in sexual activity with her, leading to her pregnancy. Upon learning of the pregnancy, Sannegowda denied any responsibility and refused to marry her.

Unable to resolve the matter through the Gram Panchayat, the victim lodged a Police complaint. The Police investigated and filed a chargesheet. The Second Additional District and Sessions Court convicted Sannegowda and sentenced him.

Sannegowda appealed to the High Court, seeking a reduction in his sentence based on the settlement he reached with the victim and her son. The High Court granted this request and reduced his sentence accordingly.

Mysuru, July 26 (SBD&KS)- A fight over a petty issue ended in lovers committing suicide in city.

The deceased lovers are Monica (20), daughter of Nagaraju and Manjula couple of Mandakalli and Manu (22), son of Murugesh of MCC Colony in Jyothinagar in city.

A few years ago they fell in love and both their families knew about it but did not object as both were relatives. Both the families had given their consent for the marriage. Monica was working as a house help at Dattagalli and Manu was working as a temporary cleaning staff at MCC. On Wednesday night, Monica and Manu had reportedly fought over a petty issue and she ended her life by hanging self at the house where she was working.

As Monica did not come out of the room on Thursday morning, the house owner knocked on the door and as there was no response, the house owner informed about it to Monica's parents. After opening the room, they found Monica hanging and immediately rushed her to a hospital where the doctors declared her brought dead.

Meanwhile, Manu, who had come to the hospital, heard the doctors announcing her death and went into sudden depression. He later returned home and ended his life by hanging self in his room, Police said.

Land allotment to wife under 50:50 ratio

CM Siddaramaiah clarifies stand with documents

Bengaluru, July 26 (KMS & DM)- Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has criticised BJP and JD(S) for making unfounded allegations regarding the MUDA scam.

At a press conference held at Vidhana Soudha this morning, Siddaramaiah presented MUDA records to support his defence. He asserted that the Opposition's efforts to discredit him are misguided and aimed at tarnishing his reputation. Siddaramaiah flayed the BJP-JD(S) for repeatedly attempting to introduce adjournment motions to discuss scams in the Valmiki Development Corporation and MUDA during the Monsoon Session.

CM Siddaramaiah addressing a press meet in Bengaluru this morning along with his Legal Advisor and MLA A.S. Ponnanna.

Clarification on Ninga

Addressing specific allegations in land allotment to his wife B.M. Parvathi, Siddaramaiah explained, "One Ninga, applied to Mysuru Taluk Office seeking allotment of 3 acres and 16 guntas of land coming under Kesare Sy. No. 464, on August 2, 1935. After due process, the then authorities, auctioned the land on Oct. 3, 1935, when Ninga was the highest bidder and bought the land by remitting the auction price at the District Treasury."

"Subsequently, authorities confirmed the sale on Oct. 13, 1935. Since land was acquired through auction, it becomes freehold land and the Government does not have any interest in this land. So, the land does not come under PTCL (Prohibition of Transfer of Certain Lands) Act concerning SC/STs," he said, adding that the Act is clear about this and there are also countless judgments in this regard.

Exclusion of heirs

On questions on why the heirs were excluded from purchase of these lands, the CM said, a family tree was made on Apr. 10, 1993, according to which Ninga has three children — Mallaiah, Mylaraiah and J. Devaraju.

"This family tree is signed by Mallaiah, Devaraju, Mallaiah's wife Puttagouramma and heir M. Manjunathaswamy. All the family members have signed and given a declaration to account for the land in the name of J. Devaraju. The family members also gave a written statement saying there is no dispute between them in the land. While Mallaiah and Puttagouramma have signed the statement in Kannada, Mylariah's heir M. Manjunathaswamy in English. Based on this, the land was transferred in the name of J. Devaraju," the CM explained

Rubbishing BJP and JD(S) allegations, the CM asserted that the records show that the purchase was done with the consent of the heirs of the buyer. "All these transactions took place before 2010 and these are in no way related to me," he said.

MUDA abandoned land

Continuing, the CM said that the MUDA issued a preliminary notification on Sept. 18, 1992, for the acquisition of this land in Kesare and the final notification for the acquisition was issued in 1997. However, on July 24, 1997, MUDA passed a resolution to abandon this land from land acquisition.

Subsequently, on Aug. 30, 1997, the then MUDA Commissioner recommended to the Secretary to Government to release the said land from acquisition. Based on the recommendation, the then Principal Secretary of the Revenue Department went ahead to de-notify the land and subsequently, a three-member Committee was formed to review and denotify the land.

Committee observation

The Committee noted, "MUDA in its meeting held on July 24, 1997, had resolved to recommend the Government to drop the acquisition proceedings in respect of the said land, as it is situated at one end of the plan of KUWS&DB (Karnataka Urban Water Supply and Drainage Board), which had proposed to execute Melapura drinking water scheme."

"However, the KUWS&DB made no plans for the project and also the MUDA had passed no award for the land acquisition as yet in August 1997. In view of the fact that if the land is denotified, the scheme will not get affected and no award has been passed and also as the KUWS&DB had not prepared any major plan in the land, the Committee accepted the MUDA recommendation and recommended for denotification", the CM said while quoting the 3-member Committee's report.

When asked whether developed or partially developed land can be sold, the CM said, "There are many judgements and also the action of the Government that the process of land acquisition is not complete unless any land is acquired and land compensation is paid and full possession of that land is taken. However, the said land was abandoned on May 18, 1998. In MUDA, since 1984, 235.30 acres of land have been relinquished from land acquisition and so it can be seen that MUDA possession of this land is not taken when the lands are abandoned."

50:50 scheme

On how the 50:50 ratio scheme can be implemented without Government permission, the CM shot back saying "By the time this land came to our family on July 15, 2005, the land had already been converted from agricultural purpose to residential purpose.

"Subsequently applications dated June 23, 2014 and Oct. 25, 2021, were filed seeking alternative land in place of land compensation as MUDA had used my wife's land by asking her to give her land. My wife had asked for an alternative place for it and subsequently, MUDA has given it. That is all," he said.

Protest over 'BJP plot' to unseat CM

MUDA scam echoes

The MPs, holding placards and calling for action, criticised both the Congress party and Karnataka CM Siddaramaiah, whose name has figured in the scam. They demanded CBI probe into the alleged Rs. 4,000 crore scam, expressing scepticism about the effectiveness of ongoing State investigations.

Key figures in the protest included MPs Basavaraj Bommai, P.C. Gaddigoudar, Jagadish Shettar, Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri, Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar, Dr. C.N. Manjunath, Jaggesh, B.Y. Raghavendra, Govinda Karjol, and Capt. Brijesh Chowta.

The MPs raised slogans condemning the alleged embezzlement of public funds from Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation.

Bommai accused Congress of misappropriating Rs. 1,087 crore from Valmiki Corporation and questioned Rahul Gandhi's position on the matter. He demanded a CBI investigation and called for CM's resignation.

Bommai specifically challenged Rahul Gandhi, asking, "What was Rahul Gandhi doing while Dalit funds were being looted? Such corruption can only be orchestrated by the Congress party." He added, "If they are innocent, they should allow a CBI investigation."

Shettar criticised CM Siddaramaiah for avoiding discussion of the MUDA scam in Assembly. "Siddaramaiah is obstructing a detailed discussion on the issue, which suggests the BJP's concerns are justified. This is why the BJP is protesting."

Capt. Brijesh Chowta denounced Siddaramaiah's Government as the worst in Karnataka's history. He stated, "Siddaramaiah claims to champion the backward classes, yet he is involved in a major corruption scandal affecting the Scheduled Tribes."

Union Minister Prahlad Joshi also condemned the level of corruption under Siddaramaiah's administration. He said, "The extent of corruption in Karnataka is alarming, prompting continuous public outcry."

"The Karnataka BJP has persistently highlighted corruption in both MUDA and Valmiki scams. Unfortunately, discussions on MUDA are being blocked. Siddaramaiah is directly named in the MUDA scam. The Congress party is at the root of this corruption. I urge Siddaramaiah to resign and hand over the case to the CBI," Joshi added.

Advocate to seek Guv's nod for CM's prosecution

Bengaluru, July 26 (KMS & BCT)- Chief Minister Siddaramaiah could face legal troubles as T.J. Abraham, Advocate and President of the Anti-Graft/Corruption and Environmental Forum, Bengaluru and also an advocate, is set to meet Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot today, seeking the Governor's consent for the prosecution of CM in connection with the alleged Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) site allotment scam.

T.J. Abraham, President of Anti-Graft/Corruption and Environmental Forum

"I will meet the Governor today (July 26) to request his sanction under Section 218 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023, and Sections 17A and 19 of the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988, for prosecuting the Chief Minister," Abraham said.

This action follows a complaint filed by Abraham with Lokayukta Police in Mysuru on July 18. The complaint to the Governor alleges the illegal allotment of 14 alternative compensatory sites in the upscale Vijayanagar area of Mysuru to CM Siddaramaiah's wife, B.M. Parvathi, on Jan. 5, 2022. This purportedly resulted in a loss of Rs. 44,64,00,000 to the State Exchequer.

The complaint implicates several individuals, including CM Siddaramaiah, his wife Parvathi, MLC-son Dr. Yathindra Siddaramaiah, then MUDA Commissioner Dr. D.B. Natesh, then MUDA Chairman H.V. Rajeev, former Mysuru Tahsildar Malige Shanker, former Sub-Registrar of Mysuru North S.K. Siddaiah, former Deputy Commissioner G. Kumar Naik (now Raichur MP), and former DC of Mysuru S. Selvakumar.

Abraham cited a precedent from B.S. Yediyurappa's tenure as Chief Minister, where Governor Hansraj Bharadwaj granted consent in a denotification case. This led to an FIR, a trial, and Yediyurappa's imprisonment in 2011. In that case, advocates Sirajin Basha and K.N. Balaraj had also sought the Governor's consent for prosecution.

MUDA: Public trust erodes

In addition, people from other cities like Bengaluru migrate regularly to Mysuru seeking its clean air and pleasant weather. Naturally, the demand for land is high and MUDA has done nothing to cater to the demand.

Controversial approvals

MUDA has been accused of neglecting its primary responsibilities by favouring residential layouts developed by real estate developers, individuals, housing co-operative societies and even alleged real estate mafias.

Instead of focusing on its primary duties, MUDA has been criticised for limiting its role to issuing approvals, such as Correct Dimension (CD) lists for plots, Completion Reports (CR) and No Objection Certificates (NOC) for land conversions.

Despite being equipped with a full team of engineers, planners, IAS-KAS Officers and other officials like Auditors, Land Acquisition Officers, Surveyors and Revenue Inspectors, who receive numerous benefits including free cars and residential quarters, MUDA has struggled to acquire land from farmers for its projects.

This failure has resulted in growing public distrust, with many questioning why farmers seem to prefer dealing with private developers over the Government body, MUDA.

A decade of inaction

A stark indicator of MUDA's recent performance is the distribution of plots — or lack thereof. Since 2017, when 1,750 plots were distributed in the 219-acre R.T. Nagar Layout and 570 plots in the 87-acre Lalithadrinagar Layout, the Authority has failed to allot a single new plot in the past eight years. The 2017 task was accomplished by the efficient team of MUDA Chairman D. Dhruvakumar, MUDA Commissioner P.S. Kantharaju and MUDA Secretary M.K. Savitha.

Since then, no site distribution activity has taken place in MUDA, despite growing demand. This inaction has left approximately 86,000 applicants waiting for plots, some for over 30 years, with many passing away before ever receiving allotments.

Additionally, over 45,000 people expressed interest in the Group Housing Scheme in a demand survey initiated by MUDA some time ago. However, this project has also failed to take off, despite MUDA identifying land for it.

Scandals and calls for dissolution

MUDA's credibility has been further eroded by allegations of scandal, irregularities and corruption. A notable issue is the misuse of the 50:50 land acquisition scheme, which was intended to balance the interests of farmers and the Government.

Under the scheme, those who part with the land for a MUDA Layout will get 50 percent of the developed sites while the other 50 percent is retained by MUDA.

The 50:50 scheme was introduced when farmers and landowners of Ballahalli refused to part with their land for MUDA's ambitious Ballahalli Layout development. However, the Ballahalli Layout itself did not materialise due to local politics. The scheme's exploitation by certain officials and elected representatives for personal gain has been a major point of contention, even creating a ruckus in the State Assembly. In light of these issues, there are growing calls for a complete overhaul — or even dissolution — of MUDA. Critics argue that the organisation has failed in its fundamental duty to create and allot plots, leaving the city's residents and site owners in a state of perpetual uncertainty.

50:50 scheme launched in 2016; picked up pace in 2020 after COVID-19

Mysuru, July 26 (RK&BCT)- For the record, the 50:50 scheme was initially introduced in 2016 but faced numerous hurdles and remained largely unimplemented. However, in November 2020, the MUDA Board decided to distribute sites to land losers following the first wave of COVID-19 and subsequent lockdowns.

Due to lack of clear guidelines, MUDA allotted sites at its discretion, leading to significant irregularities. Previously, land losers were entitled to one site for every acre of land surrendered to MUDA. Under the new scheme, land losers were to receive 50 percent of the developed sites for every acre of land. This change resulted in extensive misuse and alleged fraudulent practices.

Shockingly, for land acquired before 2000 and before the 50:50 law was established, sites were distributed to land losers in prime locations of all four stages — Vijayanagar, Dattagalli, R.T. Nagar, and other layouts — where rates range from Rs. 6,000 to Rs. 15,000 per sq. ft. This distribution is a blatant violation of the law, said Senior Advocate S. Arunkumar.

Before 2020, there were around 12,000 intermediate and corner sites across the four stages of Vijayanagar, Dattagalli, R.T. Nagar, and other areas of Mysuru. However, today, over 8,000 sites have been allocated illegally under the 50:50 scheme, he added.

Padayatra Politics: Congress counters BJP move; to march from Mysuru to Bengaluru

Mysuru, July 26 (MTY&BCT)- In response to the Opposition BJP-JD(S) alliance's planned 10-day, 145-km 'Mysuru-Chalo' padayatra from Bengaluru to Mysuru, scheduled to begin on July 31 or August 1, the Congress party has announced a counter move.

The BJP-JD(S) padayatra aims to demand CM Siddaramaiah's resignation over the alleged multi-crore MUDA site scandal involving CM's wife, B.M. Parvathi.

The BJP-JD(S) padayatra will traverse JD(S) strongholds such as Mandya, Ramanagara, and Channapatna, and include roadshows in these towns, coinciding with the upcoming byelection for the Channapatna Assembly seat.

To counter this, the Congress will organise a reverse padayatra from Mysuru to Bengaluru, said KPCC Spokesperson M. Lakshmana. Congress activists plan to highlight what they term as 20 scams allegedly committed by BJP and JD(S) during their time in power.

'Those with plots must make way for needy'

Survey of houses

"We previously conducted a survey by visiting each house while beating 'dangura' or drums. If officials and public representatives undertake a similar survey now to identify those without sites or shelter, we can allocate the available plots to deserving individuals," he said.

He added that it is incorrect to claim that all 86,000 applicants for sites at MUDA are deserving. Those who already have plots or homes should voluntarily step aside to make room for those in need.

"Mysuru has ample space and facilities such as water, roads, electricity and solar energy. It has all the amenities needed to become a paradise. Everyone has the right to live here. However, if MUDA or the Government manages its responsibilities effectively, it will be possible to provide shelter for all," he said.

"During our tenure, we conducted a survey and provided 26,000 plots to those without homes. If MUDA acquires land from farmers through mutual agreements and allocates plots according to regulations, all issues can be resolved," Madegowda added.

World IVF Day

Celebrating the Power of Embryo Freezing

By Dr. Nivedita Vishwanath Adapa,
Director and Consultant
Reproductive Medicine (IVF)
Manipal Hospital
Mysuru

World IVF Day is observed every year on July 25 to remember and acknowledge the contribution of IVF to the field of infertility. It also helps create public awareness of the progress made in the field of infertility and the various options available for treatment.

The world's first IVF baby Louise Brown was born on 25th July 1978 in Manchester, England, to Lesley and Peter Brown. Her doctor, Dr. Patrick Steptoe and the embryologist Robert Edward had worked for over a decade before achieving success.

IVF involves 3 stages

1. Controlled Ovarian Hyperstimulation (COH) of follicles with daily injectables.

2. Egg collection.

3. Embryo transfer either fresh or frozen.

One of the biggest progress in this field is cryopreservation or freezing of sperms, eggs and embryos. It revolutionised the field of IVF and improved the success of IVF multifold.

Freezing of embryos was first successfully attempted in 1983 by Alan Trounson. Since then, frozen embryo transfer has become an integral part of invitro fertilisation. Embryos are frozen at -196 °C in liquid nitrogen cryotanks on day three or day five. Freezing and thawing of embryos is a very efficient process and over 95% of frozen embryos survive this process.

The intended mother might be given estrogen pills to build up the uterine lining before receiving progesterone therapy to make the uterus receptive to the embryo. The frozen embryos are then thawed and transferred at either the day 3 or day 5 stage. No significant difference between the live birth rate with either frozen or fresh embryo transfer.

Why are embryos frozen?

OHSS (Ovarian hyperstimulation) is a complication that can occur during COH in some patients. The incidence of late OHSS can be reduced by freezing embryos and transferring them at a later stage once the ovaries have become normal.

Patients who have conceived their first child through IVF can freeze the extra embryos. These embryos can be used to conceive their second or third child at a later date, hence avoiding repeated egg collections.

Women who need to undergo surgery, radiation, or chemotherapy for cancer can freeze their eggs or embryos prior to their treatment for cancer.

Social freezing is another indication wherein women who wish to conceive at a later stage, either due to career commitments or due to a lack of a partner can freeze the embryos or eggs, to be used at a later stage.

The duration of storage has no significant effect on clinical pregnancy, miscarriage, implantation or live birth rate. Therefore, although fresh embryo transfer is still routine, the freeze-all strategy has been widely adopted and applied in recent years. It has proven to be a safe procedure as well.

Freezing embryos raises regulatory and legal issues, such as ownership, consent, and disposal of unused embryos. Hence, it's essential to discuss these risks with a fertility specialist before undergoing the procedure.

By understanding the importance and process of embryo cryopreservation, individuals and couples can make informed decisions about their IVF journey and fertility options.
